

Dr. Timothy J. Powers enters his 25th year in education. Beginning as a math teacher, Tim's career soon extended beyond the classroom, coaching sports all three seasons. With a decade-long stint as an athletic director and subsequent tenure as a dean of students, Tim gained profound insights into the multifaceted dimensions of school dynamics.

In the last nine years, Tim has assumed the pivotal role of Head of School, steering Pinkerton Academy with visionary leadership and a deep-rooted commitment to student and faculty success. Tim places immense value on the voices of both students and staff, championing their perspectives in shaping the educational landscape.

Armed with a forward-thinking approach, Tim excels in future-oriented strategic planning, ensuring that under his guidance students, staff, and the entire school community are well-prepared for the challenges of tomorrow. With a strong foundation in accounting from his undergraduate studies and a master's degree in education specializing in curriculum design, instruction, and assessment, Tim possesses a unique blend of analytical acumen and pedagogical expertise.

Tim holds a doctorate in educational leadership, underscoring his dedication to continuous learning and honing his skills to better serve the educational community. Passionate about nurturing an environment where both students and faculty flourish, Tim is not just an educator but a catalyst for growth, fostering a legacy of excellence in every institution he leads.

SHORT BIO

With 24 years in education, Dr. Timothy J. Powers has served as a math teacher, coach, athletic director, dean of students, and now, Head of School at Pinkerton Academy. He values student and staff voices, is focused on future-oriented strategic planning, and is dedicated to fostering a thriving environment for students and faculty, ensuring a legacy of excellence. Additionally, Tim is a member of the Derry Village Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club of Hudson, and serves as a director/trustee of the Greater Derry Londonderry Chamber of Commerce, Family Promises of Southern New Hampshire, and the Alexander Eastman Foundation.

LITTLE LONGER

Dr. Timothy J. Powers, with 24 years in education, currently serves as Head of School at Pinkerton Academy. Starting as a math teacher and coach, he expanded his experience as an athletic director and dean of students, gaining a comprehensive understanding of school operations.

For the past eight years, he has led Pinkerton Academy, emphasizing student and staff voices in shaping the educational environment. His leadership focuses on future-oriented strategic planning, ensuring the school community is prepared for future challenges.

Dr. Powers holds a doctorate in educational leadership, a master's in curriculum design, instruction, and assessment, and an undergraduate degree in accounting. This diverse background provides him with strong analytical and pedagogical skills. He is dedicated to fostering a nurturing environment where students and faculty thrive, driving a legacy of educational excellence.